

Monday evening, 2^d March.

My dear Sir

21

I hope you will see that Mr Edmund Jackson ^{or both of you} will attend the meeting of the Council in the Vestry of Holles Street Meeting House tomorrow. it seems to me important that you should. we ought to know of their movements. I intend to be there at the opening & make a statement of 2 or 3 facts but cannot remain long, as I must be at Dorchester at 2 o'clock.

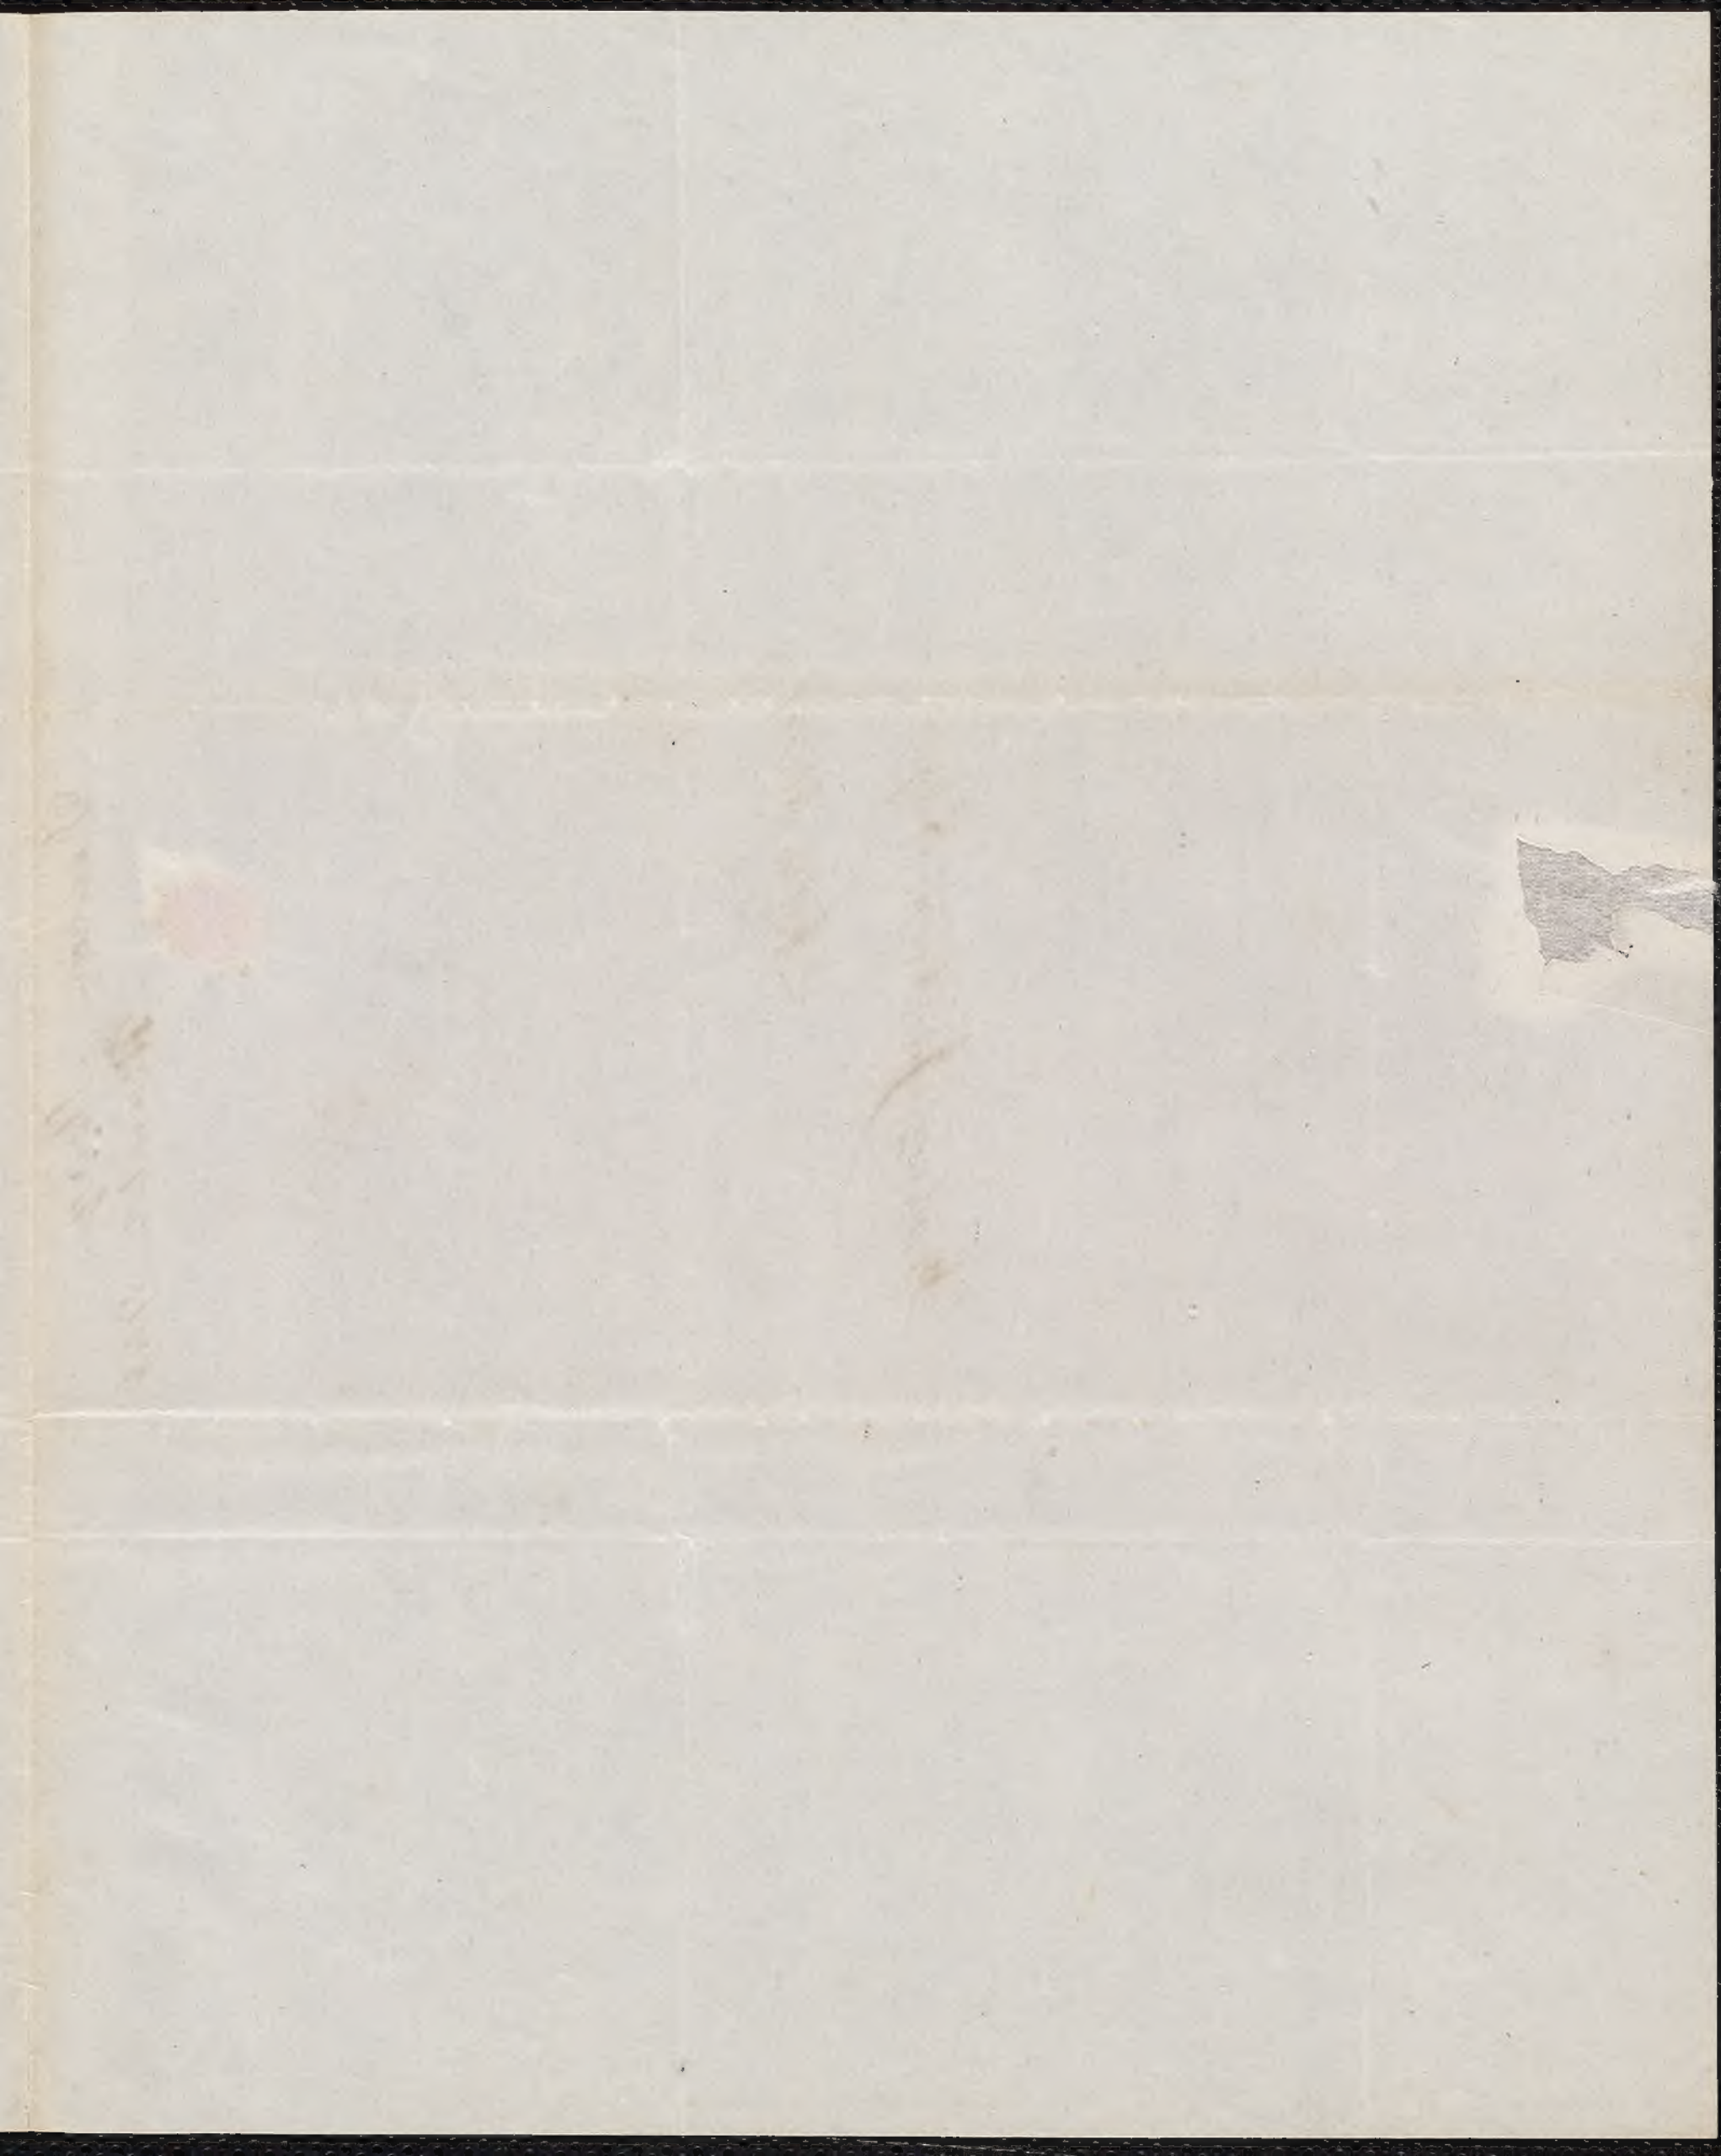

as proprietors too you are each entitled to a ticket to the Dinner & I hope you will each go in person, — if not, certainly & without fail by proxy, & let us know of the ^{*}wine drinking, proslavery Company.

"If you pay for it & eat it not — tis hard; but if you eat it & pay for it not — tis harder" — said the Host of the poor mule drivers, — "as I am a poor man that would willingly grow rich."

Yrs — tho harshly — truly

Saml. May.

I've striven all day to get in & see you, but the events in Mrs. Jellays family & other engagements have prevented.

Francis Jackson Esqr
Hollis Street.
